BOSTON, MA – November 19, 2024 – ArtsBoston's iconic half-price ticket program BosTix celebrates two decades of bringing the magic of Boston's holiday arts and performances to audiences at wallet-friendly prices. To commemorate the milestone, ArtsBoston will launch its 50% off holiday season tickets online today, and host special events on Tuesday, November 26 and Saturday, December 7 at the Faneuil Hall Marketplace BosTix booth, where visitors can enjoy musical performances and buy specially priced $25 tickets for a variety of non-holiday and holiday-centric shows.

BosTix provides Boston residents and visitors with affordable access to the city's rich cultural offerings all year long online and in person. Since 2004, BosTix has made a special effort to help families make special memories during the holidays by providing affordable access to performances of all kinds. This year, half-price tickets will be available to dozens of performances including Handel & Haydn's "Messiah," Broadway in Boston's "SIX," the Huntington's "Sojourners" (thru Dec. 1), Boston Baroque's "Messiah" and "New Year's Celebration," and vocal ensemble Skylark's "Winter's Night."

"It's a delight to know we've helped make wonderful memories for an entire generation of families and friends," says Catherine Peterson, ArtsBoston Executive Director. "The holidays are a time for joy and togetherness, and we're proud BosTix makes it possible for Bostonians and visitors to experience those feelings at an exciting cultural event. The exclusive $25 holiday season tickets at the Faneuil Hall booth…and the many other discounted shows available…are gifts to the community from us and our member groups."

Among the performances expected to be available for $25 (fees included) exclusively at BosTix Faneuil Hall are "Jane Austen's Emma" (Actors' Shakespeare Project) "Galileo's Daughter" (Central Square Theater), "The Nutcracker" (José Mateo Ballet Theatre), "Christmas with the Back Bay Ringers," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (Sh!t-Faced Shakespeare) "Bring Your Own Bells" (Boston Gay Men's Chorus), "Winter Wonderettes" (Greater Boston Stage Company), and "Crumbs from the Table of Joy" (Lyric Stage Company). More performances and organizations are expected to be added.

$25 IN-PERSON TICKET SALE EVENT DETAILS

During the Nov. 26 and Dec. 7 events, the Faneuil Hall BosTix booth will have extended hours (Nov. 26 from 1 pm - 7 pm and Dec. 7 from 11 am - 5 pm) and will sell exclusive $25 tickets to select holiday performances throughout the season. Ticket buyers can enjoy Faneuil Hall Marketplace holiday tree lighting entertainment from 3-7pm on Nov. 26; carolers will perform holiday music at the BosTix booth from 12-1pm on Dec. 7.

BosTix Faneuil Hall is located at One Faneuil Hall Square in Boston. The full lineup of BosTix discount ticket performances for holiday programs is available here.
